FYI monitor arms by Steelcase

According to a 2013 Microsoft survey, workers spend seven hours each day in front of computers, often leading to eyestrain, back pain and fatigue. Designed to display screens at optimal heights, FYI monitor arms adjust quickly and easily to accommodate any posture, increasing comfort and wellbeing in the workplace.

Computer support tools by Steelcase

Computers are getting smaller every day. Unless CPUs are stored properly, they can be difficult to access and can take up valuable floor or worksurface space. CPU holders securely store CPUs within reach, yet out of the way.
