

CBCL 1505 Barrington Street, Halifax, NS

CBCL is a world-class, multidisciplinary engineering & environmental consulting company. Headquartered in Halifax, Nova Scotia, CBCL required a new space to accommodate a growing team. Initially, CBCL leadership believed they needed space of 75,000 square feet based on a traditional construction model. After assessing a range of potential partners, CBCL chose Atlantic Business Interiors (ABI) for their ability to consult and create a flexible workspace solution that could accommodate their needs today and tomorrow.

The team at ABI worked closely with the space designer and the client project team to evaluate different departmental needs. Rather than traditional construction, the team planned a truly flexible workspace. The outcome was a beautiful, modern space with lots of room for collaboration.

“As a relationship-based firm like ours, ABI worked hard to understand our business needs and identify solutions that best matched those needs. We are very pleased with the results of that collaborative effort and have used ABI to support similar efforts in other CBCL offices in the region.” ~ Kent Lane, VP Corporate Services, CBCL
